To,
Head of Chancery,
Bangladesh High Commission, New Delhi.

Dear Sir,

Thank you very much for having invited me via e-mail for the inspirational assembly due for 21st of February, 2015. The Language Martyr's Day and the International Mother Language Day marks a very significant moment which will be etched in times to come among the fond citizens of your great nation.

As a Nation, It has had its highest highs and lowest lows, but I firmly believe for The Republic of Bangladesh, the best is yet to come.

As an ardent admirer of your country, primarily because of the goodwill, love and peace I find among the people, great history is yet to be told.

On this auspicious occasion, May I congratulate you for making this a very special moment at the High Commission, and on the same note, I wish to sincerely thank you for having invited me. Since I cannot be physically be present for this, due to my other commitment, I would like to extend my goodwill and sincere wishes.

Music and poetry forms the best bonds of togetherness and is indeed a great way to express itself in thousands of ways.

Kindly extend my Greetings to the High Commissioner of Bangladesh in India and the entire team in the Diplomatic mission. It takes extraordinary range, versatility and scholarship which I witness present in your diplomatic mission to India. To the very best of times!!

Yours in Fellowship,
